Scenario: It is the week of the Football playoffs and the school as well as the community are extremely excited. The game will take place at the opposing school's field. When Friday night comes, the opposing schools parking lot is flooded with people of all ages. About 20 minutes to kickoff, a fight breaks out between a group of parents in the parking lot. As the SRO works on separating the parents, they notice a cooler filled with beer. As staff from your school approaches they recognize one of the men involved in the altercation to be your school quarterback's father. They also notice teens from both schools surrounding this make-shift tailgate, possibly drinking the alcohol.
